

Data Analytics using WEKA

Mario Guarracino

Computational and Data Science Laboratory

High Performance Computing and Networking Institute

National Research Council

Italy

In this lecture we present two classes of algorithms for data analysis: supervised classification and clustering. Examples of algorithms will be shown for both classes. Then, some techniques will be detailed to reduce the number of variables. Performance evaluation and statistical validation tests will be introduced and explained. Some real world problems will be addressed through examples, which use data in high dimensional spaces.