

Syllabus for ENGLISH LANGUAGE (First and Second Semesters)

Course coordinator: Elena Velikaya

Class teachers: Jennifer Lockshin, Helen-Mary Owen, Mark Dunnett, Elena Velikaya, Natalia Koliadina, Glenn Hough, Manjit Mann, Wayne Rimmer, Brodey Milburn, Marina Balakireva

Course description:

The aim of the syllabus is to prepare students to use English in their further academic study on the University of London external programme. This is understood as being a “competent user” as defined by the Association of Language Testers in Europe Level 3 and realized as IELTS band 6 (the student has generally effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriacies and misunderstanding; can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations) or a “good user” – IELTS band 7 (the student has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriacies and misunderstanding in some situations; generally handles complex language well and understands detailed reasoning).

Course objectives:

The main objectives of the syllabus are:

- to broaden and expand the students’ proficiency and knowledge of English;
- to provide material for the students to revise, consolidate and extend their command of English grammar and vocabulary;
- to develop the students’ reading skills to enable them to skim the text for main idea, to scan the text for specific information, to interpret the text for inferences, attitudes and styles, to deduce meanings from the context;
- to develop the students’ writing skills to enable them to respond to input applying information to a specified task, to elicit, to select, to summarize information in a range of writing activities, such as essays, articles, reports;
- to develop the students’ listening skills to enable them to understand and apply specific information from the input;
- to develop the students’ speaking skills to enable them to use general, social and professional language, to negotiate, report, explain, summarize and develop a discussion;
- to develop the students’ general capacity to a level that enables them to use English in their professional and academic environment granted that they are provided with the specific notions and vocabulary of economics, mathematics, statistics, banking and finance in the course of their studies;
- to develop the students’ ability to apply knowledge of the language system, to develop their social competence skills, to form their behavioural stereotypes and professional skills necessary for successive social adaptation of graduates.

The methods:

The English course is based on academic skills development and comprises:

- Academic Reading
- Academic Listening
- Academic Writing
- Academic Speaking

In total the course includes 220-352 hours of classes (from 6 to 10 per week depending on the entry level of the students' competence). The course starts with a 2-week intensive course in September (the main purpose being preparation of the students for their professional studies in the first semester and development of their English language skills) and finishes with a 2-week intensive course in June (IELTS exam preparation).

Main reading:

This syllabus may be accomplished on the basis of textbooks and training materials, original special supplementary materials published by British, American and Australian publishing houses. The usage of up-to-date authentic materials will help students to obtain the necessary skills in reading, writing, listening and speaking, develop their abilities in making presentations and participating in discussions and form the students' much higher level of social and professional adaptation.

Grade determination:

This syllabus is designed basing on the belief that testing and teaching are closely interrelated. A test is seen as a natural extension of classroom work providing teacher and student with useful information that can serve as a basis for improvement.

The following system of tests will be used:

Mid of the 1st semester exam – a diagnostic test used to identify the students’ progress, their strengths and weaknesses, intended to ascertain what further teaching is necessary.

End of the 1st semester exam – an achievement/attainment test designed to show mastery of the syllabus, directly related to language courses, the purpose being to establish how successful the students have been attaining objectives. It shows the standard one student has reached in relation to another at the same stage based on IELTS band. Students can be regrouped according to the results of this exam; it will also form the main means for the end of the first semester assessment.

Mid of the 2nd semester exam – an achievement/attainment test designed to show the students’ progress, their competence in academic skills and their strengths and weaknesses in IELTS exam preparation.

End of the 2nd semester exam – a proficiency test designed to measure a student’s competence in the form of the IELTS Academic Module taken externally and administered by the BKC IELTS Examination Centre. Students must achieve a minimum overall Band 6 to be deemed successful in their first year studies and to be considered capable of successfully pursuing their second year studies.

The final grade is composed of the following parts:

In the 1st semester:

November Mock exam – 30%

Home assignments – 20 %

December exam – 50%

In the 2nd semester:

1 semester – 25%

Home assignment – 15%

April Mock exam – 20%

Final IELTS exam – 40%

Course outline:

The content of the English syllabus is based on preliminary testing and grouping the students into several groups (depending on the number of students admitted): strong advanced, advanced, upper-intermediate, mid-intermediate, lower-intermediate, pre-intermediate). This approach helps students in low groups to obtain needed competence and students in high groups to perfect their knowledge of English.
