

Nikita Talovsky

ntalovsky@hse.ru

I am aspiring social scientist, starting my academic career. My research interests include think tanks, policy advisory systems, and consulting management. I know statistics and some data mining.

since 2018 Research Intern, International Laboratory for Applied Network Research, HSE University

since 2018 PhD student at Department of Sociology, HSE University

Formal Education

since 2018 PhD student, HSE University, Department of Sociology

2018 Master's Degree Public Policy, HSE University

2016 Bachelor Degree International Relations, Tomsk State University

Research Experience

since 2018 Policy Advisory Systems as Actors of Social Change, HSE University, International Laboratory for Applied Network Research

2018 «Protest Publics as Actors of Changes», HSE University, Public Policy Department

Teaching Experience

2018 Theory and Methodology of Political Research, HSE University, Public Policy Department – Teaching Assistant

Work Experience

Prior to academia, I worked as copywriter and editor, wrote expert articles on the issues of international relations to mass media. I also co-launched an educational project about information overload called «Deep of Cyclone» («Центр Циклона»). For the project, I did public speeches and organized workshops.

- 2014 Intern at Chamber of commerce and industry, Tomsk
- 2016-18 Freelance copywriter and editor
- 2016 Columnist at REX Information Agency (1 2 3)
- 2018 Editor at Moscow International University (MIU)
- 2017 Intern at Public Policy Department, HSE University
- 2017 Public speaker, educator at «Deep of Cyclone»

Languages

English: professional working proficiency

Russian: native proficiency

Interests

think tanks, policy advisory systems, consulting management

Publications

Zaytsev D. G., Shmaltsev N. I. Protesters as the 'challengers' in embedded democracies: the cases of Iceland, the United Kingdom and the United States of America, in: Protest Publics: New Actors of Social Change and Civic Participation / Отв. ред.: N. Y. Belyaeva, D. G. Zaytsev, V. A. Albert. Switzerland : Springer, 2018. (in print)