to HSE University Directive
No. 6.18.1-01/0912-01,
dated December 9, 2020

APPROVED by Academic Council of
HSE Faculty of Computer Science,
Minutes No. 2.3-01/1811-01,
dated November 18, 2020

Regulations on Tuition Fee Discounts for Students Admitted in 2021 to the “Master of Data
Science” Programme under field of study
01.04.02 “Applied Mathematics and Information Science”

1. These Regulations on Tuition Fee Discounts for Students Admitted in 2021 to the Master’s Programme “Master of Data Science” under field of study 01.04.02 “Applied Mathematics and Information Science” (hereinafter referred to as the Regulations, discounts, students, and the Programme, respectively), set forth the grounds, conditions, amounts and procedures for granting tuition fee discounts to students.

2. The Programme is aimed at ensuring the global competitiveness of Russian education, as foreseen by the national project “Education”, as well as boosting the introduction of digital technologies.

The Programme is oriented on the global market and implemented using online learning and distance learning technologies in full cooperation with Coursera corporation, which provides its technological resources, namely, the educational platform Coursera.org.

The tuition fees for the Programme have been set after conducting an analysis of the global market of online education, by considering tuition costs for comparable degree programmes offered by the world's leading universities in collaboration with Coursera (Annex No. 1).

3. Tuition fee discounts shall be granted pursuant to part 5 of Article 54 of Federal Law No. 273-FZ of December 29, 2012 “On Education in the Russian Federation” with the aim of enabling the Programme implementation at Russia’s domestic market and providing support to Russian users<sup>1</sup>, as well as taking into account differences in the “Per Capita GDP in terms of Purchasing Power Parity” between the Russian Federation and other countries which take leading positions in terms of this indicator<sup>2</sup>.

<sup>1</sup> As part of the implementation of Russian Government Regulation No. 377 of March 29, 2019 “On Approving the State Programme of the Russian Federation “Scientific and Technological Development of the Russian Federation”, the national programme “Digital Economy of the Russian Federation”, and the federal project “Human Capital for Digital Economy”

4. These Regulations and any amendments hereto shall be approved by the Academic Council of HSE Faculty of Computer Science and enacted by the directive of the First Vice Rector responsible for the coordination of degree programmes at HSE University.

5. These Regulations shall be published on HSE University website (portal) in the section “Constituent Documents and Bylaws”. References to the respective bylaws shall be available on the Programme’s page within HSE University website (portal).

6. The following discounts can be granted to students:

6.1. A 20 % discount of the Programme tuition fee can be granted to students who are permanent residents in the countries as specified in Annex No. 2 hereto and are pursuing the Programme online via the Coursera platform;

6.2. A 50 % discount of the Programme tuition fee can be granted to students who are permanent residents in the countries as specified in Annex No. 3 and are pursuing the Programme online via the Coursera platform.

7. The place (country) of the student’s permanent residence shall be established on the basis of initial registration details about the place of his/her permanent residence provided during the registration process for access to his/her Personal account as a prospective Master’s student.

8. The discount shall be valid for the entire period of study.

9. The decision on the provision of discounts shall be approved by the Programme Academic Council in coordination with HSE University’s Admissions Office and fixed in the minutes of the meeting of the Academic Council (hereinafter referred to as the Minutes).

Discounts shall be provided by the directive on the basis of the minutes and addenda to respective agreements for paid educational services with students.

10. Discounts can be suspended or cancelled on the grounds and in accordance with the procedures which apply to all types of discounts pursuant to respective provisions of the Regulations on Tuition Fee Discounts for Students Admitted to Studies under Degree Programmes at HSE University under Educational Agreements Financed by Individuals and/or Legal Entities.

11. Any failed assignments during the interim assessment, which have not been eliminated by the student (including after all retakes), can serve as an additional ground for the withdrawal of the student’s discount that was provided pursuant to these Regulations during the term for which it was provided.
