1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY:

Major outcomes, results and impact of the Chair, including on national policies, in relation to its objectives as stated in Article 2 of the Chair Agreement (between the Institution and UNESCO)

The UNESCO Chair on Copyright, Neighboring, Cultural and Information Rights as an International Scientific and Educational Center at HSE University has become a scientific and expert center, providing HSE with forefront research on the issues of intellectual property, media law, data protection, information technologies, artificial intelligence, cultural rights and other issues of law and modern technologies. The Chair implements and promotes an integrated system of research, training, and collecting information and documentation on copyright, neighboring, cultural and information rights as well as on artificial intelligence. The Chair has a powerful team of leading scholars united by academic interests in the sphere of intellectual property, media regulation and information technologies, economics, and philosophy. Our collaboration with other HSE departments includes teaching unique courses, organizing wide range of scientific and practical events as well as conducting expert-level legal assessment for the media industry and cultural sector. During the reporting period, the Chair has actively contributed to the development of an enabling legal environment for the protection of cultural rights and the use of digital technologies and artificial intelligence for sustainable development by improving legal instruments in the field of cultural heritage, freedom of expression and access to information, copyright and neighboring rights, and has broadly disseminated the results of this work. We support the capacity enhancement of teachers, researchers, faculty, undergraduate and graduate students, and practitioners in our field. We have created the Chair's website, organized a number of conferences, round tables, master classes and webinars, have produced and disseminated publications including a quarterly scientific journal "Works on Intellectual Property" and a monthly online information bulletin SREDA (MEDIUM). All this time we have been closely cooperating with UNESCO and with other UNESCO Chairs on related programs and activities.

F) OTHER

(any other activities to report)

1. The UNESCO Chair continues publishing a quarterly scientific and analytical journal "Works on Intellectual Property".

The journal publishes scientific articles and essays, analytical materials, book reviews, expert opinions on a wide range of legal issues of intellectual property and the modern information ecosystem. Those include but are not limited to: topical issues of copyright and neighboring rights, intellectual property rights in the context of digitalization, cultural and information rights in the context of UNESCO conventions and recommendations, human rights in the digital age, legal regulation of cyberspace, mass communications, digital platforms and ecosystems, artificial intelligence and transhumanism. The journal also publishes announcements of scientific events and reviews of newly released educational literature and monographs. The journal is published on the basis of the Agreement between UNESCO and the National Research University Higher School of Economics on the establishment of the UNESCO Chair in Copyright, Neighboring, Cultural and Information Rights. It serves as a recommended journal of the Higher Attestation Commission under the Ministry of Education and Science of Russia. The journal is distributed in Russia and CIS countries.

2. The UNESCO Chair is often approached by the state bodies, public organizations, as well as individuals with a request to provide an official legal opinion on a particular act such as a draft law or a judicial act; or to prepare an Expert Opinion on the materials of a court case, etc. In such cases, the UNESCO Chair on Copyright, Neighboring, Cultural and Information Rights of HSE University provides a Scientific Legal Opinion based on its thorough analysis of the current Russian legislation, international legal instruments, doctrinal interpretation and law enforcement practice. When preparing such a Legal Opinion, the UNESCO Chair proceeds from the fact that the issues raised in the appeal are fully related to the scope of the scientific activities of the UNESCO Chair, as defined by the Agreement between UNESCO and HSE University on the establishment of the Chair. In preparing such a Legal Opinion, the Chair uses all the materials attached to the appeal.
3. During the reporting period, we have carried out the release of 15 electronic multimedia issues of the SREDA (MEDIUM) newsletter. This monthly bulletin is recommend for reading not only to lecturers, graduate students and students of the Faculty of Law and the Faculty of Communications, Media and Design at HSE University, but also to all professionals working in other educational and research centers, including related fields. Now it has near 1800 subscribers. Each month our subscribers learn about the developments that take place in media law, legislation on information, intellectual property legislation and cultural rights. We inform our readers about the most interesting and significant news from related official bodies and the media industry. Each month the "Court Cases" section is devoted to the latest judicial practice in the protection of copyright, information, neighboring and cultural rights. The "News of Legislation and Law Enforcement Practice" section is replenished with a large number of laws and other regulatory legal acts that have been adopted and entered into force. In the "New Draft Legal Acts" section, we provide readers with our reviews of the draft laws that may soon be adopted and signed. Also each issue contains a "UNESCO News" section, where we talk about new projects and programs of UNESCO in Information, Communication and Cultural issues. Sometimes we work on this bulletin together with our interns, students of HSE University who serve as the Chair's interns or participate in the "HSE Project Fair" research project. The interns' responsibilities include selecting materials for all sections of the newsletter, editing and abstracting, and preparing the bulletin's layout. They work with legislation databases of the Russian Federation, databases of court decisions, and websites of specialized state authorities. Then they fill in all sections of the bulletin with the prepared final materials. The assistant to the Chairholder Natalya Yakimovskaya is responsible for mailing the bulletin, communicating with its readers, and maintaining the mailing lists and subscriptions.

On February 10, 2022, a meeting was held between the UNESCO Chair and the working group of the Union of Printing Industry Enterprises (SPPI-GIPP) on the issue of improving the legal regulation of relations between print and online media publishers with digital platforms and news aggregators. Representatives of Kommersant, Rambler, RBC, and Forbes Russia attended the meeting. The working group proposed to discuss a number of measures that are supposed to minimize the so-called "technological dictate" of digital platforms over domestic media. These measures are designed to help protect the rights of media-right holders to the works they have created and to proper remuneration for their use by third parties. Also it suggests to partially compensate traditional media for the drop in market revenues from "paper" advertising and content, diversify their income and facilitate their further development. During the discussion, the meeting participants decided that it is necessary to prepare amendments to the Law "On information, information technologies and information protection", as well as to part IV of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation and, probably, to the law "On mass media". Head of the UNESCO Chair Mikhail Fedotov expressed the opinion that the amendments should consolidate the balance of interests of publishers and digital platforms. Natalia Yakimovskaya noted that information agencies and producers of audio content should be involved in the dialogue with news aggregators and search engines. Professor Ruslan Budnik asked the curator of our Chair Ms. Laurence Mayer to share European materials on the regulation of such disputes and discussed them with the working group.
16. On April 26, 2022, a meeting of the Scientific Advisory Board of the Intellectual Property Rights Court of Russian Federation was held. Many prominent experts in the field of copyright took part in the discussion, including the Chairman and the Associate Fellows of the UNESCO Chair: Elena Voinikanis, Vitaliy Kalyatin, Mikhail Fedotov, and Vladimir Entin.

17. During the reporting period, four meetings of OSCE experts were held, organized by the OSCE Representative on Freedom of the Media, Teresa Ribeiro. The discussions were moderated by the Senior Advisor to the OSCE Representative on Freedom of the Media, Associate Fellow of the Chair, Professor Andrei Richter. Other members of the Chair also took part in those meetings.

3. FUTURE PLANS AND DEVELOPMENT PROSPECTS:

Outline of action plan for the next biennium and short/medium and long-term development prospects. Please do not hesitate to refer to difficulties that the Chair has experienced Going forward, we will continue to act in accordance with the provisions stated in Article 2 of the Chair Agreement and the UNESCO Strategy 2022-2029.

As a short-term development prospects the UNESCO Chair on Copyright, Neighboring, Cultural and Information Rights at HSE University continues to publish articles by Russian and international specialists and UNESCO experts in the scientific and analytical journal of the Chair "Works on Intellectual Property". We are willing to participate in all relevant UNESCO field events aiming to establish personal contacts and involve leading scientists in the field of copyright, neighboring, cultural and information rights ready to work with Russia.

As a medium-term development goal we are developing an educational program "NeuroLaw". We believe we are able to train lawyers for the neurocomputer, biotechnological and transhumanism industries. Also we are working on the creation of the program of the scientific-research seminar for students "UNESCO Norm-Setting For Sustainable Development". We will conduct it in the academic year 2022-2023, if we manage to enroll the required number of students.

As a long-term goal our Chair is going to enhance cooperation with Russian and foreign UNESCO Chairs in the context of integration into programs pursuing a set of sustainable development goals for the Russian Federation. Also we will be strengthening cooperation with the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) in order to integrate into the global innovation ecosystem and achieve the goals of advanced scientific and technological development.
